

Emergency Medicine Assistant, Associate or Full Professor

The Department of Emergency Medicine (<http://emergencymed.ucsd.edu>) at University of California, San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body invites applications from outstanding candidates for a Ladder Rank appointment for a research faculty position with the UCSD School of Medicine in the Department of Emergency Medicine.

The UCSD Department of Emergency Medicine is one of the most academically productive Departments in the specialty in the country with extramural funding from the NIH, NSF, HRSA, RWJF, State of California, DOJ, ACEP-EMF, and Gary and Mary West Health organization focused on research, clinical innovation, and health policy initiatives. The successful candidate should have the requisite experience and background to support a successful academic research career, and will be able to build on the success at UCSD with the potential for additional collaborations with other Departments in the School of Medicine, as well as across campus with the UCSD Jacobs School of Engineering, and Wertheim School of Public Health.

Candidates must have an MD, PhD in health related fields or other advanced degree.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales. As a member of the Health Sciences Compensation Plan, the appointee should be aware that there are limitations on outside professional activities and clinical moonlighting is expressly prohibited.
